Fortitude Valley is a contradiction in itself, raw yet sophisticated, where elegance and style meets grungy and offbeat. A place where heritage listed properties proudly stand amongst new and contemporary structures.

The Valley, as it's affectionately known by locals, was Australia's first dedicated entertainment district and continues to be a hive of activity, alive with the sounds of people and music.

At the heart of the Valley, fronting both Brunswick Street and Chinatown Malls, and with its own public car park and easy access to public transport, TCB is your destination to eat, drink, shop and play.
